The American College of Foot & Ankle Pediatrics is excited and proud to announce its 1st Annual ACFAP Conference. The conference will take place on the campus of Barry University School of Podiatric Medicine on Saturday March 28, 2015. This CME event will feature leading authorities on pediatric foot & ankle conditions. It will cover topics ranging from pediatric flatfoot, equinus, sports medicine, surgery, pathology, and practice management. The meeting will be preceded on Friday March 27 by a one day national park excursion. Featured at this meeting will be nearby Everglades National Park. ACFAP's goal is to create the premier podopediatric yearly meeting for the profession, combined with a different National park experience each year.
