

Community Engagement Symposium & Awards Ceremony: The inaugural Community Engagement Symposium & Awards Ceremony was held in 2014 with more than 150 attendees with an anticipated reach in 2015 of more than 300. The Symposium coordinated by Barry University's Center for Community Service Initiatives (CCSI) is a forum for presentations and discussions of community engagement projects, practices, and perspectives. The main features of this program are seminars/workshops; concurrent presentations by faculty, students, and community partners and informal sessions. The 2015 keynote speaker will be Dr. Barbara Jacoby, Faculty Associate for Leadership and Community Service-Learning at the University of Maryland, College Park.

The mission of Barry University's Center for Community Service Initiatives is to foster civic engagement among students, faculty, and staff in the pursuit of social justice. By providing programs, services, and resources, the Center supports community-engaged teaching and learning, research, and service. The Center functions as both a catalyst and the coordinating unit for reciprocal partnerships between the University and the wider community, designed to create long-term, self-sustaining solutions to human, social, economic, and environmental problems.
