CPT Explanation Letter For Employer

International Student Curricular Practical Training

To: Prospective Employer

From: Claudia Biscardi & Jesse Haggett
International and Multicultural Programs
Barry University

Re: Curricular Practical Training

To Prospective Employer:

“Curricular Practical Training” (CPT) is an authorized period of paid employment that is an integral or important part of an international student’s academic degree program at Barry University’s School of Law. The process requires the student to procure an updated SEVIS I-20 form with CPT work authorization.

Barry University’s office of International & Multicultural Programs will issue the form as soon as the qualified law student provides them our Employer Offer Form or a letter from the prospective employer requesting approval for a specific placement.

The form or letter should specify the beginning and ending dates of employment, the number of hours per week, salary, job title and the type of legal work the student will perform. Since the purpose of Curricular Practical Training in the JD Program is to provide the international law graduate with practical legal experience in a US legal setting, it is important that the work be described sufficiently to show that such training will take place.

The student must also register for a corresponding CPT directed research class. The minimum length of employment permitted by the School of Law for Curricular Practical Training for each semester is 8 weeks. Students may take Curricular Practical Training for academic credit at the law school for a maximum of three semesters.

Curricular Practical Training complies with U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement regulation 8 CFR 214.2(f)(10)(i), governing practical training of foreign students. This placement does not affect the one-year Optional Practical Training permitted after graduation to those in student status.

Please direct any administrative questions about the Curricular Practical Training Program for students in the JD Program to the office of International & Multicultural Programs.

Sincerely,
Claudia Biscardi & Jesse Haggett
