

The United States of America places a high value on the privacy of an individual's personal information. The purpose of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) is to protect the privacy of information concerning individual students by placing certain restrictions on the disclosure of information in your application file. Beyond the protection required by law, Barry University will normally not release information from your international student file to anyone except you, without your expressed written permission.

If you wish us to release information from your application file to anyone, you must provide us with your written consent clearly specifying that we may release this information. You must specify which information may be released and exactly to whom the information may be released.

By authorizing Barry University to release this information, you are waiving the FERPA rights normally associated with this information from your international student file.

Please indicate below which information we may release and to whom we may release this information.

Please initial in the space next to any information we may release:
	Any Application Status		Status of I-20 or DS-2019
	List of missing documents		SEVIS number
	List of received documents		Information relative to financial documents (for I-20 or DS-2019 purposes)

Any information initialed may be released to:
1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.

Initial below ONLY if you do not want your personal information released to anyone who normally would not have the right to have this information.

_____ Do not release any of my personal information to anyone.

I understand that this consent or non-consent shall remain in effect until revoked by me in writing.

Applicant Name

Applicant Address

Applicant Signature

Date